St. Louise de Marillac is a Roman Catholic community called together as family to worship, to minister, and to evangelize. As true disciples of Jesus Christ, we are called to renew His love and spirit by sharing our time, talent and treasure.

St. Louise de Marillac Mission Statement

The Joy of the Gospel in America

The theme of the meeting for "Convocation of Catholic Leaders," organized by the United States Conference of Bishops, is "The Joy of the Gospel in America." Bishops and several thousand Church leaders from around the country will be considering the meaning of Pope Francis' vision for our mission of the new evangelization here in the United States and throughout the American continents.

For most of the past 2,000 years, the Church has found herself in a culture that she helped to build - a culture shaped by the vision and values of the Gospel. This is no longer the case. Our society is now very deliberately trying to "un-remember" its Christian roots and deconstruct all that was built on top of these roots.

This is why the struggle for religious freedom is so important. There are powerful forces at work in our society that would force the Church, and all those who believe in Christ, to reject our beliefs as a condition for living and working in our society. There is legislation in Sacramento (Assembly Bill 569), that would force religious employers, including schools, to hire people who do not agree with the core values of the religion. It would also dictate what kind of health care services we provide to our employees. We face legislation of that type almost every year here in California. Last year it was a bill to require religious colleges to accept practices that violate their conscience. So we need to continue working and praying until our country once more recognizes that the most fundamental human right after the right to life is the right to believe in God and the right to order our lives according to our beliefs.

The broader point for the Church is this: We now live in a cultural moment in which there are many "competing Gospels" - many different possibilities for how to live our lives, all of which promise us happiness and fulfillment. This presents challenges to our work of evangelization.

Bishops and priests and "professional Catholics" - need to work together to find pastoral strategies that "fit" our cultural moment. New ways need to be found to reach out to our neighbors. The Encyclical "The Joy of the Gospel," that sets Pope Francis' thrilling vision for evangelization which is perfect in preparing for the "Convocation of Catholic Leaders." The Pope reminds us, we do not to wait until we are perfect to be holy. We do not need to be "trained" Church professionals. All of us, whoever we are, are called to proclaim God's love with joy and confidence—by our words and actions, by the witness of our lives. We face challenges in this culture, we face difficulties and adversity. Despite these realities, this is a great time— and an exciting time to be Catholic! And our joy at knowing Jesus pushes us "always forward," as the great missionary of America's first evangelization. St. Junipero Serra, used to say.

Our Lord sends us out today—just as he sent out the saints and missionaries before us. He sends us out for the same purpose—to proclaim his love to those who are lost and confused about the meaning of life; to proclaim his freedom to those who are oppressed by injustice and poverty and the burdens of living. We have found Jesus! We know he is risen and he is living with us—that he goes with us now as a friend, to enlighten us and strengthen us. What a beautiful surprise to meet Jesus and to know his love! This is the reason we are Christians. And this is always the motive for the Church's mission of evangelization. Our mission is born from our discovery of God. We have seen how he loves us, saves us and changes the meaning and direction of our lives. And we cannot keep such a gift to ourselves! We feel such urgency to share this love with our neighbors. So pray for us as we attend the "Convocation of Catholic Leaders," and let us ask our Blessed Mother Mary to help all of us to know and to share the joy of the Gospel.

DID YOU KNOW?

Adults and children should be familiar with fire extinguishers.

Every home should have a fire extinguisher, and parents and older children should know how to use it in case of emergency. Small fires can escalate quickly, and there is not always time to wait for the fire department. Parents should familiarize themselves with the extinguishers in their homes, and teach children where the extinguishers are located and how to operate them safely. Use the PASS trick to help kids remember what to do: Pull the pin, Aim at the fire's base, Squeeze the handle, Sweep from side to side. To request a copy of the VIRTUS article "Fire Extinguisher Tips Everyone Should Know," email jvienna@la-archdiocese.org or call (213) 637-7227.

For more information on other ways to keep kids safe, contact Linda Filkins, the Parish Safeguard Committee Chairperson at (626) 214-7846 or the Archdiocesan Safeguard the Children Office at (213) 637-7227. For particular help, call the Victims Assistance Office at (213) 637-7650.
