Welcome the Stranger

Immigration reform is a thorny issue. It is not an easy or quick fix. However, the US Catholic Conference of Bishops issued a pastoral statement in 2003 entitled, Strangers No Longer: Together on the Journey of Hope, which laid out some guidelines.

First, there has to be acknowledgment of the almost 11 million undocumented immigrants that already live in the United States. Most of these have lived here for many years and have been providing essential services to us all. Most have families here. So, this is the first point addressed

1. Ensure access to permanent legal status and a path to citizenship for current residents. Given the millions of hardworking, undocumented migrants already living in the United States—some for many years—legalization provisions are needed.

The second point raised is something that has always been part of our Immigration Policy, which is a focus on the family. However, this has been weakened in the past few years.

2. Reaffirm and prioritize family unity and reunification. Any legislation should contain language that strengthens families and maintains the long-standing family unity emphasis in immigration law.

The third point is to reform the immigration detention system.

3. Immigration reform legislation should eliminate the use of detention as a method of deterrence, and reserve detention only for individuals who are national security or public safety threats.

The fourth point has to do with the situation at our borders today.

4. Evaluate and revise immigration enforcement strategies, both along the U.S.-Mexico border and within the interior, to ensure the just and humane treatment of all migrants.

The fifth point addresses asylum requests.

5. Promote access to asylum and due process. Immigration reform legislation should limit policies that place undue burdens on asylum and instead establish reasonable and achievable pathways to citizenship for refugees and asylum seekers.

Develop strategies to address the root causes of migration.

6. Political and religious persecution, environmental degradation, and economic underdevelopment and exclusion have long been factors driving people to leave their homelands.

Any government has the sovereign right to determine immigration policy. But we as Catholic Christians have to make sure our lawmakers know what it is we believe. We take seriously the charge made by Jesus that we are to welcome the stranger. "I was hungry, and you gave me food, I was thirsty, and you gave me drink, I was a stranger, and you welcomed me." (MT 25: 31-40.) In the Passover celebration, there is a tradition that you set a place for an unknown guest. If one shows up, you invite him in to share your meal. We should do no less.

Fr. Robert Fulton

Pastor

REMEMBERING OUR LOVED ONES

This past year and a half has been very challenging due to the restrictions and isolation caused by the pandemic. Celebrating the lives of loved ones who passed away was not possible as people were prevented from gathering in groups and funerals and graveside blessings were limited.

As we begin to move forward and are able to return to church, we want to acknowledge and remember in a special way the family members and loved ones of parishioners who passed away during the pandemic.

St. Louise is creating a photo wall of parishioners, friends and family members who passed from the start of the pandemic in March 2020 to the present time. Loved ones do not need to have died from COVID-19 to be recognized. The goal is to remember not only those lost to the pandemic, but to acknowledge those who may not have been able to celebrate the life of a loved one due to the restrictions that were in place.

Parishioners are encouraged to send pictures of those they lost during this time and we will create a digital slide show and a banner will be hung from the exterior wall of the church to honor their memory. The banner and slideshow will be unveiled at a special Mass of Remembrance. The date of the Mass of Remembrance will be scheduled at a future date.

Send in your photos, please visit www.stlouisedm.org/mass-of-remembrance.

OFFICE OUTAGE

We would like to apologize for the outage at the Parish Office last week which caused our phones and internet to go down.

We apologize for those who watch Mass at home for the outage of our livestream.

This was due to the construction of the educational buildings roof where some cords were accidentally cut in the process and required new wiring to be installed.

Again, we apologize for any inconvenience. Thank you for your patience.

THIS WEEK'S HIGHLIGHTS

Renovation Realities

The renovations in the Church are nearing completion. We have moved up our anticipated opening date to the weekend of July 31st and August 1st. please make sure to familiarize yourself with the new Mass and Confession times as that is when we will be changing to them.

All the pews are now in the Church. They are currently working on making repairs. Again, we are not refurbishing them just repairing them. Once the tiling is completed on the altar, we can move back in our refinished altar and statues.

The educational building roof a making significant progress, but it is not without its challenges (see Office Outage).

Once we return to the Church, there will be some fixtures that will still need to be done, most noticeable is the baptism font.

We like to thank all of you for prayers, patience, and understanding as we get closer to reopening to once again being able to worship inside our Church.

FEAST OF FAITH

The Prayer Over the Offerings

In the liturgy of the 1570 Roman Missal, this prayer was called the "secret" prayer. It was "secret" not because its content was mysterious, but because it was prayed in silence by the priest, who only recited the conclusion aloud: . . . per omnia saecula saeculorum. With the reforms of the Second Vatican Council, we again hear these rich prayers spoken aloud. They remind us to prepare ourselves for what is to happen in the Eucharistic Prayer, for it is not only the bread and wine that will be transformed.

The Prayer Over the Offerings is a prayer for transformation, an expression, in a few words, of all that we hope that the liturgy will accomplish in our lives. We ask God to accept the gifts we present, and to change us even as God hallows the bread and wine. As we listen carefully to the Prayer Over the Offerings, we are reminded of what it is that we seek in the Eucharist: to be made holy; to be drawn closer to God; to come to eternal joy, unity, peace, and salvation.

VOCATIONS TO RELIGIOUS LIFE SEMINAR

SIXTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

COMPASSION

If we were to use one word to describe the scriptures for today, it would be "compassion." In Jeremiah, God rails against those who have scattered the sheep, and vows to "gather the remnant" personally. We also hear the prophecy about the coming Messiah. In Ephesians, Christ is breaking down the walls of division between peoples and drawing them to be reconciled with God in peace. In Mark, Jesus calls the tired disciples away to rest and have some "me time," but even then the crowds persisted. Jesus saw their spiritual hunger and neediness and was "moved with pity." All three situations involve looking beyond one's own agenda to see the needs of others and respond. God models how to empathize with others. May we continue to learn to be kinder, gentler, and more caring for each other.

TIME FOR A TEAM MEETING

In last week's Gospel, Jesus sent the apostles out two by two. Today we see him bringing them back together, reporting "all they had done and taught." A lot has happened between then and now and in this time the disciples experienced many things. They would have grown in their ministry and their ability to heal and preach, but they probably also ran into frustrating times and encountered their limitations as human beings. If human nature prevailed, their partners were driving them nuts! So now after all this sharing, Jesus called for some balance in their lives. It was time to come away and rest. Between family and friends and social media, many of us have lost this ability to "be by ourselves" as we have become accustomed to filling every day and every moment with distractions. Perhaps one of the gifts and challenges of "sheltering in place" these last months is that we celebrated moments of joy and hope and peace but were also forced to listen to and name those voices of anger, loneliness, and fear.

WELL LAID PLANS

It is important to have balance in our lives, and Jesus was indeed trying to teach this to the Apostles, but when they got to their intended place of repose, they encountered so many people Jesus was filled with compassion. No doubt he went about feeding them spiritually and physically; it would have been important for him to be hospitable. But at some point in time, I'm guessing that he still pulled the apostles aside and told them "Okay, people are settled now, so let's leave all the excitement, delegate the job to somebody else, and find some peace and quiet." None of us is any good at our prayer, our ministries, our lives, unless we take the time to find the quiet and go back to replenish our own wells. There is no way we can give to others unless we do. That is why we return to church each week, to rest and be nourished and renewed. And none of us is so important that we can't take time away to take care of ourselves. So be gentle with yourself and with others this week.

THE DAYS ARE COMING

Separation, isolation, and hostility are terrible things. We are, sadly, too familiar with all of them in our modern life, whether we look at world events or events in our own neighborhoods and families. All three readings today refer to these same sad human conditions.

The prophet Jeremiah describes world conditions as if the people of his time were sheep who had been scattered by poor leadership and corrupt shepherds. But "the days are coming," he assures us (Jeremiah 23:5), when a new shepherd, a just king, will come. We meet that king in the second reading and the Gospel. Paul reminds us in the Letter to the Ephesians that all divisions can now cease in Christ Jesus, who has brought us together through his blood. In Mark's Gospel we see Jesus himself, looking with pity on those searching for him as if they were sheep without a shepherd.

SAINT CHRISTINA THE ASTONISHING (1150-1224)

July 24th

Born at Brusthem, Belgium, Christina had a seizure at age 21 that was thought to have killed her. At the Mass being said for her, she suddenly flew to the top of the church, later saying she had been to hell, purgatory and heaven, and was allowed to return to earth to pray for suffering souls. This was one of the incredible events attributed to this poor, likely schizophrenic mystic, called "Christina Mirabilis," who reportedly flew to treetops and rooftops to avoid smelling other people. She spent her last years in St. Catherine Convent in Saint-Trond, and is a patron saint of psychiatrists, psychologists and those suffering mental illness.

DID YOU KNOW?

The impact of social distancing on children

The negative effects of the pandemic on children are just beginning to be seen, as children head back to schools and daycares, some for the first time in well over a year. Children may be struggling socially, academically, and developmentally, due to a year of social distancing and predominantly online interaction. Work with your children to discuss how they are feeling — check in often for any signs that they might be overwhelmed or struggling. For more information, read the article, "The impact of social distancing on young children." at https://www.swhd.org/the-impact-of-physical-distancing-on-young-children/

For more information on other ways to keep kids safe, contact Linda Filkins, the Parish Safeguard Committee Chairperson at (626) 214-7846 or the Archdiocesan Safeguard the Children Office at (213) 637-7227. For particular help, call the Victims Assistance Office at (213) 637-7650.
