Twenty-Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time

St. Louise de Marillac is a Roman Catholic community called together as family to worship, to minister, and to evangelize. As true disciples of Jesus Christ, we are called to renew His love and spirit by sharing our time, talent and treasure.

St. Louise de Marillac Mission Statement

Annulments

Every few years, I like to make a pitch to our Parishioners who have been previously married in the church to see if they are eligible for an annulment. For those who have been married only civilly and that marriage ended in divorce, there is a similar process to dissolve that marriage. The reason I want to remind you about the annulment process is to encourage you to have your current marriage celebrated as a sacrament in the Catholic Church. I realize many of our parishioners are divorced and remarried. An annulment allows the parties to have their initial marriage declared null and invalid. Therefore, the couple can now receive the sacrament of marriage. For those Catholics who were never married in the church and there have been no divorces we call their sacramental marriage service a con validation. It does not require an annulment.

Having witnessed many couples who have gone through the annulment process, I can say with some certainty that addressing the problems in a previous marriage can bring real healing from the hurt of a divorce. There is grief to be acknowledged after a marriage fails and the annulment process can help the person who did get a divorce process that.

There are many myths about annulment, and I want to address some of these:

Myth 1) A PERSON WHO RECEIVES A DIVORCE IS EXCOMMUNICATED FROM THE CATHOLIC CHURCH. This is not true. A divorce is a civil procedure and the church respects civil law.

Myth 2) AN ANNULMENT COSTS THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS. This is not true. The Church has done everything it can do to make annulments affordable.

The archdiocese spends a lot of money to determine the validity of a previous marriage, but the applicants pay a fraction of that cost.

Myth 3) ONLY CATHOLIC MARRIAGES NEED TO BE ANNULLED. Not true. Every marriage is considered a promise for life, a promise until death. It makes no difference whether that promise was made in a Catholic ceremony or not. No one, no matter what their religious affiliation or membership is required to get all previous marriages annulled.

Myth 4) AN ANNULMENT MEANS THE MARRIAGE NEVER TOOK PLACE. Not true. An annulment can't erase history and doesn't try to. An annulment in the Catholic Church deals only with the sacrament of marriage, and not the legal, historical, emotional truth of marriage. An annulment states that the sacrament was never present in the marriage, and not that the marriage never took place.

What the church is looking for when investigating an application for annulment is to determine whether the marriage was flawed at the time the couple entered into the marriage. It is not a "Catholic Divorce." Something had to be present at the time the marriage ceremony took place, that kept one partner of the marriage to be incompetent to enter into the marriage covenant. A simple example would be one person was an alcoholic or a drug addict at the time of marriage and was not competent to enter into the covenant of marriage. Another could be if there was no intent to remain married for life or that one or both parties had no intention of being faithful.

This is why I encourage our divorced and remarried couples to come to the office to set up an appointment to see if you are eligible for an annulment. Nothing would be more beautiful than seeing you celebrate your sacramental church wedding.

THE GIFT OF SALVATION

Naaman and the leper who returned to Jesus saw God’s hand in their healing. Only through God’s intervention could they have been cured. Through this recognition of God’s presence and action in their lives, they grew in faith. For what are you grateful? Pause for a moment to reflect on all of the blessings in your life. God is the source of these many blessings—life, love, gifts, and so much more. Of all the gifts for which we must be grateful, none is as great, or as astounding, as the gift of salvation offered to us through Jesus Christ. Let this sink in, not only in your mind but in your heart. Like Naaman and the leper who returned, allow yourself to be touched by the immense love of God for you.

28TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

RESPONDING TO OUR BLESSINGS

This Sunday's readings explore how we see and respond to blessing in our lives. We hear two stories of healing and of thanksgiving, of a powerful military leader Naaman, and of a powerless Samaritan leper. Both are examples of humility and gratitude that mark the presence of faith in God. We observe that both Naaman and the leper had their horizons expanded by their healing. Once healed, they did not simply attribute this to a stroke of luck, and then go on with their lives. Instead, they began to see God on the move, reaching out to everyone, and actively blessing all creation. Jesus notes that the leper's faith saved him, because he was receptive to seeing this fuller reality. Faith changes our perception. Faith allows us to see beyond our usual boundaries, to embrace a loving God, and to participate in sharing that love with others.

THE OTHER

Saint Luke has a special interest in Samaritans. In Luke and in Acts, Samaritans keep popping up, both in parable and in the narrative. In today's Gospel, Jesus travels among peoples with a long history of hostilities between those loyal to the Temple in Jerusalem, and those (Samaritans) who rejected it. They shared many common beliefs, and honored the God of Abraham and Moses. As in many conflicts, two groups who have much in common tragically have the most intense disagreements. It was the Samaritan leper who returned to thank Jesus and praise God for his healing. Someone across the social divide became an example of faith in God, just as, earlier in Luke, the Good Samaritan demonstrated love of neighbor. Might you be part of a group that finds reasons to distrust another group? Jesus points toward new possibilities within and between families, ethnicities, and religious groups. If "the other" is in fact admirable, if we can learn from them, then perhaps we can work to be reconciled with them.

GOD'S WAYS

The passage from 2 Kings concludes of the story of Naaman, a foreign military leader who suffers from a skin disease named as leprosy. The full story of Naaman is well worth reading, beginning in 2 Kings 5:1, as it describes the journey of a powerful man desperate for a cure, and who finds it most unexpectedly. He has used up all the options available to the wealthy and well-connected. But his slave girl from Israel points him to Elisha, the little-known Jewish prophet. Other servants rescue Naaman from his pride, and he is led to accept healing. This story illustrates how God's ways are different from worldly ways. God acts primarily through the lowly and faithful, while power and wealth fail to solve the world's problem. Those on the margins, or those with humility, are often best able to see the opportunities God makes available. When Naaman humbled himself, he discovered God's ways, and gave thanks to God.

DID YOU KNOW?

What happens when children are exposed to violence?

Children who are exposed to violent or traumatic events can have a range of reactions. Many children will become afraid, preferring to stay at home or close to their parents. They also may begin to struggle in school, or have trouble sleeping or eating. Other children may learn to resolve their own conflicts in violent ways. Parents should be mindful about the ways in which children may be exposed to violence, including in the media and online apps their children consume and even in their own homes. For more information, read "Childhood Exposure to Violence" at <https://www.healthychildren.org/English/safety-prevention/at-home/Pages/Crime-Violence-and-Your-Child.aspx>.

For more information on other ways to keep kids safe, contact Linda Filkins, the Parish Safeguard Committee Chairperson at the Parish Office at (626) 915-7873 or the Archdiocesan Safeguard the Children Office at (213) 637-7227.
